

Volunteers needed for Study on Release Conditions for those criminally charged with offenses related to Intimate Partner Violence

Are you a service provider for those charged with or a survivor of offenses related to Intimate Partner Violence?

You may be eligible to participate in a study about release conditions in criminal proceedings including their impacts upon the accused, survivors and the community. To be eligible you must have worked with a front-line organization for at least 6 months in Hastings or Prince Edward Counties.

You will participate in a 45-minute interview. Participation is voluntary and confidential. Benefits include: reflecting on your experience and having your voice heard.
